AN ANALYSIS OF DEVELOPMENTS IN SPAIN, PORTUGAL, AND LATIN AMERICA

INDEX TO VOLUMES VIII-XII
(1955-1959)

Institute of Hispanic American and Luso-Brazilian Studies at Stanford University

The Hispanic American Report

THE Hispanic American Report, established in 1948, is the Institute's monthly journal and is recognized as the standard authority on developments in Spain, Portugal, and Latin America. It is prepared by the members of the Institute and constitutes the core of their activities.

Every program must have a focus, depending on the idiosyncrasies of the civilization studied and on the peculiar interests which have developed at any given institution. The predominant obsession of Latin America, Spain, and Portugal today is politics—not the abstract variety which flourishes in more metaphysical lands, but a peculiarly personalist brand, involving a day-to-day struggle in which revolution and unrest are often accompanied in a paradoxical way by economic and social growth. The study of the political, social, and economic development of the area is the theme of the Hispanic American Report. The training on the Report is the core of the advanced program in Hispanic American Studies; the minute analysis it provides is as fundamental as the continual use of a microscope by a biologist. Researchers are trained to write for internationally recognized publications. Those who complete satisfactorily at least one year's work on the Report receive a certificate. For research on critical contemporary issues, the free atmosphere of Stanford is vital. As the motto of Stanford University proclaims, "The winds of freedom blow."

Hispanic American Society

THE HISPANIC AMERICAN SOCIETY, devoted to the study of contemporary Latin America, Spain, and Portugal, is affiliated with the Institute of Hispanic American and Luso-Brazilian Studies. The Society endeavors to provide the usual advantages enjoyed by members of professional organizations. Its official organ is the Hispanic American Report.

Bolivar House

THE INSTITUTE is located on the Stanford campus in Bolivar House. It provides excellent working arrangements for students in the Institute's program. On the ground floor are the administrative offices, the conference room, and the Luso-Brazilian Center, while on the second floor there are rooms devoted to each of the major regions of Spanish America. The Institute has a radio room where programs are prepared for broadcasting over a nation-wide network. The Archives are in an adjoining building, which also houses the Spanish and International Sections of the Institute.

Propaganda publications of organizations and government departments are welcome and will be carefully studied, but the Hispanic American Report cannot be offered in exchange.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Individual subscription including membership in the Hispanic American Society is $8 per annum (regular member), $12 (sustaining member), and $25 (patron). Individual membership is made available at a low rate in order primarily to facilitate the circulation of the Report among teachers; it is hoped that those who can will subscribe in higher categories. It should be understood that these rates do not apply if an institutional check is sent in payment. Since the cost of everything goes up, and since we wish to save clerical labor, we believe it is mutually advantageous if members send in their subscriptions for several years in advance. Commercial and institutional subscriptions to the Hispanic American Report are $12 per annum, $25 (sustaining), and $100 (patron). Individual issues of the Report may be obtained for $1. Checks should be made payable to the Hispanic American Society, Stanford University. Individuals must send their checks with their application; institutions may if desired be billed. Rates for mailing the Report by air, as well as advertising rates, are provided on request. The earlier volumes of the Report may be obtained on microfilm at $3 a volume from University Microfilms, 313 N. First Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Occasionally copies of the Report go astray because of loss in the mails or inadequate addressing. Since the Report frequently goes out of print, complaints about non-delivery must be received immediately. However, since it frequently happens that institutions lose copies and readers remove them from libraries, free replacements will be provided only if it is clear that the copy was improperly mailed. Second-class mail is not automatically forwarded. If you change your address, be sure to send us your new address well in advance.

FOREWORD

As an instrument of research, the value of the Hispanic American Report is greatly enhanced by the indexes which facilitate its use. We began with a massive (pp. 224) index of volumes I—VII, covering the years 1948-1954. It was then decided that a yearly index would be more useful, and beginning with volume XIII, covering the year 1960, we have published a special index number at the end of each year. With a delay which is regrettable but inevitable, the index to volume XV (1962) is now in press.

The present substantial volume covers the intervening years, 1955 to 1959, i.e. volumes VIII—XII. It is hard to express our appreciation of all who worked on this project. The prime mover was Ann Hartfiel, a former Assistant Editor of the Hispanic American Report and now a key staff-member of the Peace Corps in Brazil. The following were among those helping her: Frederick Goff, Frank Jackle, Lewis Lepper, Sally MacBean, Todd Mallett, Kenneth Murphy, Loren Patterson, Mary Randal Scholl, Robert Shaffer, James Shaha, and Betty Stephenson. This list is incomplete, and it does not mention the many assistants who worked on the project.

Beginning with volume VIII, the pagination of the Hispanic American Report has been continuous within each volume, so that it is no longer necessary, as it was in the last cumulative index, to indicate the number of the issue in giving each reference; this time the volume and the page are sufficient. The general organization of the index has been changed. The present one is divided into the two traditional categories: namely index nominum and index rerum, i.e. an index of proper names, or more precisely personal names, and an index of everything else. In the Spanish- and Portuguese-speaking world especially these two categories present quite different problems. The index of personal names is strictly alphabetical, whereas the second part of the index is broken down on a country-by-country basis. This should facilitate research on specific countries.

Given the instability of the names of people and institutions in Latin America, it is often extremely difficult to know where to list them. Naturally, the personal names are usually listed according to normal Spanish or Portuguese usage, although there is scarcely any such thing as normal Portuguese usage. The moral is simple; if you don't find an entry under one key word of a name, look under another. If there are variants of spelling, look under another variant. There are some strange cases; for example, Fidel Castro's mother's name consistently appeared as "Ruiz" until the correct but unusual name "Ruz" established itself.

Libraries frequently report the loss of copies of the Hispanic American Report. The loss of this index would be especially grievous, since it is a key to five years of the history of Spain, Portugal, and Latin America, five years which in retrospect seem packed with a drama whose significance is only now becoming apparent to the world.

THE Institute of Hispanic American and Luso-Brazilian Studies concerns itself primarily with the study of developments in Latin America, Spain and Portugal (the ancient Lusitania, hence Luso-Brazilian). The Institute is a teaching organization, granting the A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. in Hispanic American and Luso-Brazilian Studies. It is also a research center, actively engaged in publishing. Its program is an area or regional program in that it concerns itself with a definite area, but this is a cultural rather than a geographical region. Synthesizing several disciplines, as do such other inter-departmental subjects as biochemistry, the program provides a unique opportunity to study contemporary Latin America, Spain, and Portugal, using techniques developed at the Institute, and through particpation in the preparation of the Hispanic American Report, the Institute's monthly journal.

It is a language and area program: The study of a foreign area without a mastery of the language of that area is comparable to trying to study engineering without mathematics. Conversely, to teach Spanish in the contemporary world as it has been taught traditionally—solely in terms of literature, occasionally great, but usually second-rate—is comparable to confining the teaching of mathematics to algebra on the grounds that calculus is new and rather difficult. Mastery of a foreign language involves more than the ability to decipher a written text.

One of the most valuable and indeed most exacting of modern techniques, the use of native informants, requires a good command of the spoken language. Authorities from Spain and Latin America regularly address in Spanish or Portuguese the seminar which prepares the Hispanic American Report and engage in discussion with members of the seminar. The Hispanic American Studies program strives to bridge the dangerous gap between the humanities and the social sciences.

Study in Latin America

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for students in the Institute to spend one or more quarters in accredited and approved Latin American institutions. For details, consult the Director of the Institute at Bolivar House.

Bolivar House Archives

THOSE WORKING at the Institute may use the collection of materials about contemporary Latin America, Spain, and Portugal which has been assembled for some years as a necessary concomitant of the monthly preparation of the Hispanic American Report. These materials are hard to collect, and the Bolivar House Archives are now a unique depository. Since the Archives constitute a kind of working laboratory, only those registered in the Institute may use them.

Luso-Brazilian Center

THE Institute of Hispanic American and Luso-Brazilian Studies carries on Stanford's long tradition of Luso-Brazilian studies initiated by the University's second president, John Casper Branner. The Institute offers bachelor of arts, master of arts, and doctor of philosophy degrees with a concentration in Luso-Brazilian studies, the stress being, as is true of all of the Institute's work, on the analysis of the contemporary scene.

The Luso-Brazilian Center, which sponsors the lexicographical work of James L. Taylor and his group, is carrying on a constant survey of Brazilian Portuguese, which is now the language of half of South America.

Summer Advantages

STANFORD UNIVERSITY follows the quarter system, so it is possible to begin graduate study leading to the master of arts or doctor of philosophy degree in Hispanic American Studies in any of four quarters. Graduate students may register for either full- or half-time programs. Teachers may register on a unit basis. Tuition is scaled accordingly.

Prospective graduate students in the Institute should consider the advisability of including the Summer Quarter in their program. Those planning to enter in Autumn Quarter will find it to their advantage to attend a four-week training session which precedes Autumn Quarter each year. There is no charge for this session.

A Final Word

THE UNIVERSITY BULLETIN Courses and Degrees includes a detailed description of the Institute's program, as well as other pertinent information about the University. Tuition, fees, and financial assistance are covered in detail in the Information Bulletin. Both are available from the Registrar.

A reprint of the Courses and Degrees section on the Institute, as well as other descriptive material about the Institute and a list of the cooperating faculty is available upon request. For this material or for any additional information, write directly to:
